September 8, 2008 Newsletter

Just 3 months into my term and I am already late with a newsletter. Hopefully I will be back on track and you will receive the next newsletter on or about September 15, 2008. I am shooting for newsletters twice a month on or about the 1st and 15th of each month.

Bar Lunches in 2008-2009

The first bar lunch of the year will be at Wenatchee Golf and Country Club at noon on September 18, 2008. Richard J. Stride, PSY.D., will be presenting on forensic mental health.

The second bar lunch will be at noon on October 16, 2008, and will be Robin Gaukroger presenting on Developing and Managing the Successful Family Practice – What I Wish I'd Known During My First 10 Years in Practice.

If you wish to be a CLE speaker, please contact PeggiMoxley@aol.com.

Future CLEs

I am working with ALPS to see if they will do another ethics CLE in Wenatchee in the Fall. The fee will probably be $50 for 2-3 hours of ethics credit. Please contact PeggiMoxley@aol.com if you are interested in an ethics CLE as I do not want to have it if there is no interest in the subject.

Barbara Isenhour is presenting to the Estate Planning Council at 6:00 p.m. on November 20, 2008, on Special Needs Trusts. Barbara is probably the State of Washington's foremost authority on Special Needs Trusts. She is a frequent CLE speaker around the state. I would like to know if there is any interest in having our local bar sponsoring a separate CLE for bar members focused on Special Needs Trusts in divorces and in personal injury settlements. If you are interested in such a CLE, please contact PeggiMoxley@aol.com.

Announcements

CLE for New Admittees to the Bar

Chip Small has only heard from 2 potential bar admittees, so maybe the new potential admittees are not receiving this newsletter. If you have a potential October bar admittee in your firm, please contact Judge Small at Chip.Small@CO.CHELAN.WA.US as soon as possible. The mandatory CLE will October 17, 2008, at JDSA from 12:30 – 5:00.

Fall Bar Party

The Fall Bar Party will be at the opening night hockey game on October 16, 2008 at 7:00 p.m. at the Town Toyota Center. Even non-hockey fans are going to love this! We are going to have three adjoining luxury boxes and have them stocked with some food and beverages. Once that food and drink is gone, bar members can start a tab and pay for their own additional food and drink.

Seating in the three boxes is limited to 52. Spouses or significant others are invited. The bar is paying for the rental of the boxes but bar members must purchase tickets to the game. If you are interested in going to the bar party, you should RSVP to Keri Kube (karik@jdsalaw.com), and send $20 for each hockey ticket to Erik Wahlquist (P. O. Box 1231, Wenatchee, Washington 98807-1231) at the PUD by September 25th. Checks should be made payable to the bar association. Keri and Erik will accept the first 52 RSVPs.

WVDRC

Wenatchee Valley Dispute Resolution Center (“WVDRC”) is offering a 40 hour basic mediation training over 5 days on October 10, 11, 12, 25 and 26, 2008. This class is the first step in the process for anyone who wants to become a certified mediator and they have applied for 40 WSBA CLE credits (35 general & 5 ethics). If interested, contact Lynn Yialelis, Wenatchee Valley Dispute Resolution Center, P. O. Box 3391, Wenatchee, WA 98807-03391, or see attached flyer.

AGENDA SUMMARY

This class provides intense, hands on practical training. You will learn the necessary skills to mediate disputes in a variety of areas. You will gain a working knowledge of the role of a third party neutral mediator. The class is highly experiential – lectures, discussions, demonstrations, and role-playing with feedback from instructors and peers. Each person must actively participate in all classes. Upon completion of the course, if you choose to pursue certification, you will take a written exam and upon passing, you may apply to the Apprentice Mediator Program as a volunteer for the Dispute Resolution Center in Wenatchee to continue on the path to certification.
